

Moldable Putty for underground corrosion prevention of manhole covers

Features

- Minimal surface preparation required
- Excellent permanent adhesion
- Easy to apply and shape
- Impervious to water and oxygen
- Can be re-used

Underground usage only

STOPAQ®

corrosion prevention

STOPAQ® 4100

STOPAQ® 4100

Non-crosslinked corrosion prevention moldable putty for underground pipeline flanges, valves, fittings and casings

Flexible

- Fast & easy to apply

Non-crosslinked

- CP function not affected by FN4100

Packed in tubes or sausage

- Minimal surface preparation required

Resistant to low temperatures

- Can be molded to all irregular shaped objects

Non-toxic

- Harmless to the environment and people

Does not cure or age

- Can be re-used

Excellent corrosion resistance - must be mechanically protected by Wrappingband CZH and/or Geotextile and suitable tapes

For more info, check the product data sheet at www.STOPAQ.com

DISCLAIMER: In practice, materials, substrates and specific local conditions may differ in such a way that STOPAQ B.V. cannot assume any responsibility for coverage, performance or injuries from use. Liability, if any, is limited to the replacement of products. Intellectual property rights must be respected. All orders and deliveries from STOPAQ B.V. are subject to our Standard Terms and Conditions, registered with the Chamber Of Commerce Groningen under number 02327624.